> Francesca Carnegie Bispham. Another Borheri, of Florence, Italy, has not and has given her consent to the proand has given her consent to the probate of the will.

Mr. Bispham left an estate estimated at about $200,000, which includes a trust fund left to him by his grandfather. David Scull, who gave his grandson the power of distribution of the fund. The singer bequeathed three quarters of the trust estate to his widow, from whom he long lived apart, and their two daughters. The remaining quarter, and also his residuary estate, Mr. Bispham left to Mrs. Henrietta Ten Eyck, referred to in the will as "my friend." Mrs. Ten Eyck, a choir singer, is the wife of former Judge Jay Ten Eyck, of Essex County. N. J., who also was a friend of the biarytone. It is said the share of the Bispham estate left to Mrs. Ten Eyck will amount to about $25,000. Out of this she was commissioned by the testator to erect a suitable memorial to him.

Mrs. Ten Eyck was appointed as one of the executors of the will. The other was Job E. Hedges, who now is the sole executor, as Mrs. Ten Eyck renounced the appointment.

Mrs. Bispham is a daughter of the late General Charles S. Russell and was formerly a resident of Washington. She and her late husband had several bitter legal proceedings, one of these being a divorce suit brought by the husband in London, which was dis the husband in London, which was dis missed.
